Welcome to STEPHENVILLE

July Danley
President/CEO

Whether you are just visiting for a few days or planning to plant your feet here for a lifetime, the Stephenville Chamber of Commerce welcomes you to our great town and hopes your experience here is enjoyable!

Known as the 'Cowboy Capital of the World' and the 'City of Champions', Stephenville takes pride in having residents who are warm, inviting and gracious, combining a strong work ethic with a giving heart. While most noted for being home to more professional cowboys and cowgirls than any other place in the world, our community also boasts many other unique qualities.

Agriculture is the leading industry, with Erath County ranking in the Top 3 counties for milk production in the state. In addition to farmers and ranchers, Fortune 500 companies along with family-owned businesses thrive in Stephenville as they draw from our strong workforce, educational opportunities, and family-oriented atmosphere.

Tarleton State University, a part of the Texas A&M University System, is known far and wide for creating a culture of excellence in both academic and athletic programs. Erath County is also served by Ranger College, offering a variety of continuing education and workforce training for students of all ages.

Our community strongly believes that investing in our youth is a wise and worthwhile endeavor. Families seeking a positive place to raise kids will find an excellent school system, service clubs dedicated to youth projects, numerous sports leagues, and family fun events at parks, museums and churches throughout the year.

Stephenville is a special place that reflects pride in the community's rich heritage and commitment to the future. We hope you enjoy your time here and feel confident you will soon see why Stephenville has been listed as one of 'The 100 Best Small Towns in America!'

Tarleton State University

Tarleton State University, a vital part of Stephenville and Erath County since its beginnings as a small liberal arts institution in 1899, this year celebrates its Centennial as the founding member of The Texas A&M University System.

Gaining university status in 1973, Tarleton is near-perfect in size, scope and affordability. Enrollment at all sites has topped 13,000, including students from 220 Texas counties, 49 states and 27 foreign countries.

Tarleton now has a 700 member faculty, offering more than 90 degree programs in six academic colleges – Agricultural & Environmental Sciences, Business Administration, Education, Health Sciences & Human Services, Liberal & Fine Arts, and Science & Technology.

The College of Graduate Studies offers both teaching and research-based master's degrees and a doctorate in Educational Leadership

Tarleton's rich history and traditions live in the hearts of students and alumni, linking generations. As a welcoming and friendly community, Tarleton offers the personal attention, warmth and faculty interaction expected at a smaller college.

Always improving its academic offerings, Tarleton last year added a bachelor of science in mechanical engineering and two degree programs for the outreach centers – a master's track in applied psychology in Fort Worth and a bachelor's in agribusiness in Waco.

Tarleton is among 44 universities nationally participating in a Re-Imagine the First Year College Experience project with initiatives to boost student performance and retention, and has joined the prestigious Carnegie Project on Educational Doctorate.

The university continues to expand and renovate its facilities. Construction has begun on a $54-million Engineering Building to upgrade engineering and technology programs. A $26.4 million renovation of Memorial Stadium begins this fall.

As the largest non-land grant agricultural university in the nation, Tarleton

Ranger College

In Texas, the central mission of public community colleges is to provide access to higher education. To this end, the Texas legislature has charged community colleges with operating inside service districts similar to independent school districts. Ranger College's service district encompasses Brown, Comanche, Erath and Young counties, and portions of Eastland County.

Our campus in Stephenville is named the Ranger College Erath County Center (RCEC) because we serve the entire county.

RC has seen tremendous growth over the past decade, including a rapidly growing high school dual enrollment program.

Erath County alone has 308 high school students taking classes from RC. The total number of students at the RCEC has reached 855.

Recent course additions include Introduction to World Religions, Physical Geology, Introduction to Theater, Child Psychology, Agricultural Economics, and Wildlife Conservation and Management.

Recently we added a child development program, which will house both an associate's degree in Early Childhood Education and multiple certificates. It will include a Child Development Center (daycare) that will serve the public with space for 75 children aged 12 months to 12 years.

We also have a growing slate of continuing education offerings, including multiple health and human services classes such as Certified Nurse Aide and Medication Administration. Our newest continuing education addition is a class in drone aviation.

Ranger College is one of the leading colleges in Texas in receiving awards from the Texas Workforce Commission under their Skills Development Fund program. In this capacity, we provide highly specialized and customized training for businesses in our Erath County service district.

The Ranger College Department of Workforce Development provides training and programs of study for local demand occupations. Students may be traditional career seeking, or studying to increase skills to compete for job placement or advancement with local business, industry or agencies. Industries served include manufacturing, agriculture, and healthcare. The estimated economic impact of Ranger College's workforce training courses and programs total in excess of $4,000,000 annually in new jobs and wage increases.

Our aim is to be a full-service community and technical college, and we encourage all prospective students and interested community members to come visit our Erath County Center, located at 1835 West Lingleville Road in Stephenville (just across from Jaycee Park), to see how we can meet your needs.

opened a new 24,000 square-foot Agricultural Field Machinery and Fabrication Laboratory in January. The former fire station at Harbin and Frey streets has become the University Police Station and projects to improve walkways and utilities will wrap up late this year.

Tarleton, intent on becoming the premier student-focused university in Texas and beyond, is the perfect place for students to thrive. Tarleton's reach extends beyond Stephenville with expanding programs in Waco, Midlothian, Fort Worth and Global Campus online.

When emergency strikes, Texas Health Stephenville is here for you

If you experience a medical emergency while visiting Stephenville, you can find quality emergency care provided around the clock by a team of health care professionals at Texas Health Stephenville.

"We have caring staff members who are dedicated to providing safe, quality care and we are passionate about our community," said Cindy McCarthy, D.N.P., M.H.A., M.B.A., R.N., NEA-BC, CEN, chief nursing officer, Texas Health Stephenville.

A Level IV Trauma Center, the Terrell Emergency Center at Texas Health Stephenville offers a wide range of services to help patients return to wellness.

"Some of our newer services include teleneurology for possible stroke patients and a process where CareFlite keeps their helicopter idling while loading heart attack victims who need transport, which can save important time for these patients," said McCarthy.

Designed to improve the patient experience, the Terrell Emergency Center features:

- Streamlined patient admissions
- 9,500 square feet of clinical space
- 12 patient care rooms
- Centralized nursing station with full visibility of each patient room
- A dedicated ambulance entrance
- Covered patient drop-off and pick-up area

Texas Health Stephenville has earned The Joint Commission's Gold Seal of Approval for Chest Pain Certification, becoming the first health care facility in Erath County to receive Joint Commission certification for a chest pain program. The Gold Seal of Approval is a symbol of quality that reflects an organization's commitment to providing safe and effective patient care.

Texas Health Stephenville has also received top rankings from the Leapfrog Group, the Center for Medicare Services and Premier Healthcare Alliance – a national program aimed at continuously improving the quality and safety standards at member facilities – for achieving quality, evidence-based care. In addition, the hospital has achieved the Pathway to Excellence designation, which recognizes health care organizations that create a work environment that supports nurses, to ensure the standards of their staff are being met as well.

Becker's Hospital Review has listed Texas Health Stephenville as one of 59 hospitals with the cleanest patient rooms, based on patient feedback.

Texas Health Stephenville is located at 411 North Belknap Street. For information on all services offered at Texas Health Stephenville, log on to texashealth.org/Stephenville.

Stephenville Medical and Surgical Clinic

Why drive a Ford when you can drive a Jaguar?

You may be asking yourself, "What does this statement have to do with healthcare?" and you would be right to do so. Let us explain.

In late 2016, Stephenville Medical & Surgical Clinic, whose foundation in Erath County dates back to 1929, decided to build upon that foundation and offer patients a new exciting technology: 3D Mammography. One might compare 2D to 3D and use the terms Ford as compared to Jaguar when doing so.

2D mammography offered patients the best pictures available for many years; however, with the invention of 3D, things became clearer and more beneficial to the patients we serve. It's like driving a Ford (2D) when you can drive a Jag (3D).

The owners of SMSC knew that this technology would be of benefit to patients, and they made the decision to purchase the equipment, knowing that only a certain population of patients would ever use the technology. Why?

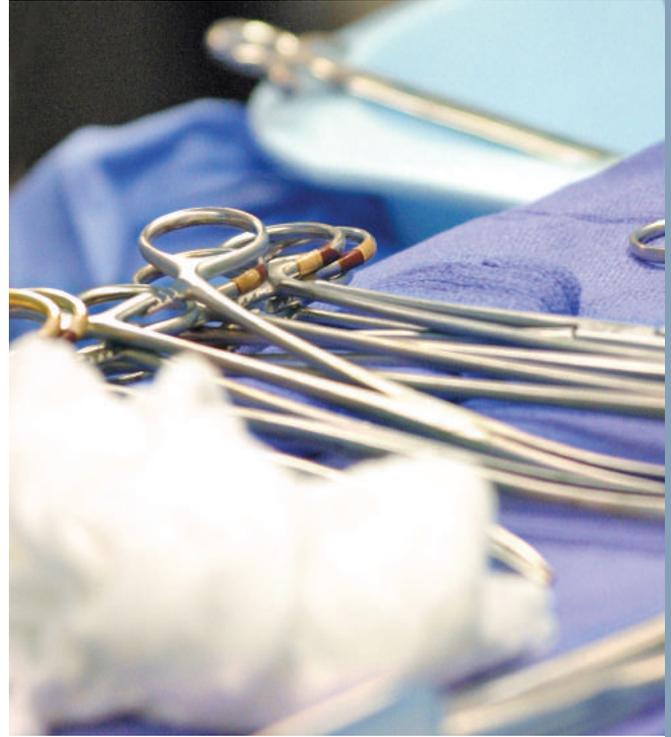

• Doctors agree that early detection is the best defense against breast cancer. Successful treatment and survival rates for breast cancer patients are dramatically affected by early detection of breast cancers. If breast cancer is found early, the five-year survival rate is almost 100%. 3D mammography detects 41% more invasive cancers, while reducing false alarms by up to 40%.

- 3D detects breast cancer up to 15 months earlier than 2D
- There are no extra compressions required but the results are images with better details, and the Radiologist views the breast tissue in layers instead of in a flat image.

Not only is our equipment superior, but our staff is as well! With over 50 years' experience between them, our staff of Mammography Technicians and Radiologist provides breast health services to women of our community. They are dedicated to providing the best care possible. Friendly and compassionate, they make otherwise uncomfortable procedures bearable.

When making your home in Stephenville and choosing a healthcare provider who has your best interests at heart, choose Stephenville Medical & Surgical Clinic, home of The Genius 3D Mammography™ exam, the first and only clinically superior breast exam that is approved by the FDA.

Road trippin'

Because of Stephenville's location, it's an easy place from which to shoot off into some truly fun day trips. Great dining, shopping, and a myriad of fun things to see and do lie in every direction.

City of Hico

Hico is a charming, easy-to-park-and-navigate little town that's perfect for the shoppers in your circle. Just take Hwy. 281 about 20 miles to a bevy of unique stops. While walking around the historic district, be sure to check out one-of-a-kind stores like Blue Star Trading, Sugar Moon Antiques and nationally-recognized Wiseman House chocolates. Save time for a trip through the Billy the Kid Museum and don't forget to stop in at the Koffee Kup Café, voted one of the 40 best small-town cafes in Texas, where they serve some of the best pie in the state.

Bluff Dale Vineyards

Bluff Dale Vineyards – at 5222 County Road 148 just outside Bluff Dale on Hwy. 377 offers a beautiful, laid-back countryside destination for a day trip. There you can sample some wine and relax in the vineyard's tasting room or on the deck overlooking the fields of grapes. Winning honors at wine festivals all over Texas is second nature to Bluff Dale Vineyards with their Paragon and Nexus wines. Snacks are available in the tasting room or you're welcome to bring a picnic lunch. They're open every day but Tuesday, between noon and 6 p.m.

Dublin Bottling Works

The City of Dublin only 13 miles from Stephenville is home to the oldest soft drink bottling facility in the state of Texas, Dublin Bottling Works at 105 E. Elm Street. This great 120-year-old plant – formerly the home of Dublin Dr Pepper – is located in the heart of the downtown area with easy access and plenty of free parking. Take time to sample something sweet or grab a sandwich at Old Doc's Soda Shop. You're also invited to inspect the museum and gift shop. Tours of the facility and its 1930s-era, still-in-use bottling equipment are available all day. It's truly a great spot for people of all ages including the kids and grandparent.

Veldhuizen Family Farm

Before or after the Dublin Bottling Works, see if you can work in a visit on your journey between Stephenville and Dublin, at the Veldhuizen Family Farm. This is as the name implies, a family run dairy farm that's just off Hwy. 377 at 425 Private Road 1169. There you can sample premium gourmet and artisan cheeses, handmade and aged on site. There Texas Gold Cheddar and Bosque Blue are top sellers so don't miss tasting those. Tours are also available. Going towards Dublin on Hwy. 377, keep an eye out for the Catholic Church with the domes on the right. If you go past that, you've just missed your turn on the left. You can also visit the website or call for driving directions.

City of Granbury

Granbury is just 32 miles north on Hwy. 377 and it's easily one of the best places for a shopping or dining day trip. Get going on the courthouse square with all kinds of shops and restaurants. And don't miss Granbury Theater Company, where Broadway-style shows are produced at a highly professional level.

A great spot for those with kids is Granbury City Beach Park located at 623 W. Pearl Street and features white sand imported directly from South Padre Island and a water spray park to keep them busy. The beach features the Tiki Hut concession stand, serving food, drinks and snacks. Thatched roof pavilions are available for reservation.

Two great spots near Granbury for adults are Barking Rocks Winery, offering handcrafted premium wines, and Revolver Brewing, an artisanal microbrewery specializing in craft beers. Barking Rocks, located at 1919 Allen Court, is open for tastings on Saturdays, First Fridays and also "by chance." Revolver Brewing, situated at 5650 Matlock Road, has Saturday tours, tastings and live music. They also provide various activities to keep the younger set entertained.

City of Glen Rose

The town square in Glen Rose is well known for its charming shops, art galleries and cozy eateries. Be sure to check out Barnard's Mill and Art Museum that was the first permanent structure in Glen Rose, built in 1860. This National and Texas Historic Places site is open on weekends and features 12 rooms of watercolors, bronzes, oils, etchings and artifacts.

Glen Rose is also home to a variety of endangered animals that you can see up close and personal on motor tours at Fossil Rim Wildlife Center, about five miles out of town. They offer a beautiful drive-through preserve with exotic animals such as a rhino, zebras, wildebeests and more.

Also near Glen Rose is Dinosaur Valley State Park that's been named by Frommer's Travel Guides as one of the 100 best places to take kids in the United States. It's just four miles west of town on U.S. Highway 67, then another mile on Park Road 59. It features some of the best preserved dinosaur tracks in the world. Other activities include camping, picnicking, hiking, mountain biking, equestrian use, river swimming, fishing and wildlife observation.

Also located on Park Road 59 is Dinosaur World where you can walk among more than 100 life-size dinosaur reproductions. There's a museum, complete with replicas and fossils, and a simulated dinosaur dig for the kids. Picnic lunches are welcome and as long as your pet, is on a leash, you can bring your furry buddy.

Enjoy Area Museums

Museums offer a step back in time

Because Stephenville is known as “The Cowboy Capital of the World,” history or art buffs might not automatically think of our city and surrounding areas as places that offer a diverse selection of historical and artistic treasure troves.

Here’s a quick overview of some of the most interesting places in Erath County:

Stephenville Historical House Museum

One of the finest museums in our area is this jewel right in the heart of Stephenville, just a few blocks from the Erath County Courthouse. The Stephenville Historical House Museum is dedicated to collecting and preserving historical structures and artifacts as well as educating the public about the city’s history along with that of the surrounding area. There are 10, 19th-century structures on the grounds, all furnished with period furniture and other authentic memorabilia. In addition to year-round access, the museum hosts two major free events each year: The Native and Heirloom Plant Fair that’s held in April, and another on the second Saturday in October, By Gone Days on the Bosque – a direct leap back in time, complete with banjo-playing Southern Belles and shoot ‘em up gunfighters in period regalia. In addition, the Chapel on the Bosque and the museum grounds are available for indoor and outdoor special events – and it’s an understatement to say that plenty more than one couple has started their marital journey together by “tying the knot” on the idyllic grounds. The museum is located at 525 East Washington Street. Call 254-965-5880 for more information.

Cross Timbers Fine Arts Council

Too many memorable events to list here are hosted throughout the year at the Cross Timbers Fine Arts Council, where the arts come alive through the constant efforts of the dedicated folks at CTFAC. Its goal is to enrich and enhance the artistic environment of the Cross Timbers Area by making cultural activities accessible to as many area residents and visitors as possible. Events include monthly art exhibits, ballet performances, camps, painting classes and much more. The CTFAC also offers music, theater, dance and art programs for the community. In addition – within its eight-county service area –the CTFAC also sponsors children’s theater, youth concerts, art camps and public art education programs. The gallery is located at 204 River North Boulevard. For more information visit www.ctfac.com or call 254-965-6190.

Dublin Historical Museum

Just 13 miles outside Stephenville in the neighboring city of Dublin, stories of people who helped shape the area’s history are told at the Dublin Historical Museum. The museum features thousands of extraordinary artifacts from old-time farmers, doctors, lawyers, homemakers, preachers, teachers and other Dubliners. You can browse at your own pace – or go on a tour guided by a museum docent. The museum is located at 116 West Blackjack Street in Dublin. For more information call 254-445-4550.

Dublin Rodeo Heritage Museum

Back to the cowboy-heritage of Erath County, the Dublin Rodeo Heritage Museum is filled with memorabilia from Everett Colborn, the producer of the once-world-famous Dublin Rodeo. There’s a special exhibit that spotlights the first sanctioned event of the National Cutting Horse Association, held in Dublin and the museum also holds artifacts from world champion cowboys Harry Tompkins, Ty Murray and many others. The museum is open afternoons from 1 to 5 p.m. Wednesday-Saturday and is located, along with its gift shop, at 118 West Blackjack Street in Dublin. For more information call 254-445-0200.

Dublin Bottling Works

A for-sure-don't-miss-it delight is the still-producing Dublin Bottling Works at 105 East Elm Street. There you can step up to the beautifully-restored soda fountain and experience an array of soft drinks made the old-fashioned way - with pure cane sugar. At Old Docs Soda Shop and the W.P. "Bill" Kloster Museum Annex, tours of the bottling area give visitors a close-up look at how soft drinks are still produced in house, using 1930s-era equipment. The museum also offers a sandwich and gift shop as part of Old Doc's Soda Shop. Across the street from the bottling plant is the W.P. "Bill" Kloster Museum Annex that houses more of the collection, including a re-creation of Billie Kloster's office with floor-to-ceiling Dr Pepper artifacts. For more information call, 888-398-1024 or visit dublinbottlingworks.com.

Ben Hogan Museum

This is the first and only museum honoring the legendary pro-golfer and Dublin native, Ben Hogan. The Ben Hogan Museum in Dublin offers visitors a rare and unique look at artifacts from Hogan's youth and career. As a young boy, Hogan picked up his first golf club and for all intents and purposes, never put it down. In fact, Hogan later even fashioned a set of his own clubs at the Dublin blacksmith shop where he worked. The Hogan Foundation in Fort Worth and the Hogan family have given their endorsement and support to the museum. For more information stop by the museum at 121 East Blackjack Street, call 254-445-4466, or visit benhoganmuseum.org.

W.K. Gordon Center

Last - but certainly not least by a long shot - is the W.K. Gordon Center for Industrial History of Texas that's located at 65258 Interstate 20 in nearby Mingus. It's true "three-fer" - a combined museum, special collections library and research facility for Tarleton State University. Across I-20 from the W.K. Gordon Center is the site of the Thurber ghost town, with its interactive exhibits that explore the birth and death of a 19th Century Texas company town. By the way, virtually all the red bricks you'll see still paving older Stephenville and Dublin streets were made in once-thriving Thurber. Call 254-968-1886 for more information.
